NEW DELHI, April 7 (AP)—The working committee of the All-India congress was reported tonight to have decided to adhere to its stand against the British independence plan in spite of a British offer to appoint an Indian as defense minister.

Germany Admits Lines Cracked by Russian Troopers

By The Associated Press

Russia's armies have broken into German lines southeast of Lake Ilmen on the bloody Staraya Russa battlefield, the Berlin radio acknowledged today, while Soviet dispatches indicated that Adolf Hitler now was throwing clouds of warplanes into the struggle as a prelude to the Nazi spring offensive.

Red army dispatches said the intensified aerial assault cost the Germans 415 planes in eight days, with Soviet losses held to 84. On Easter Sunday alone, dispatches said, Russian fliers and gunners destroyed 119 German aircraft in sky combat and attacks on Nazi airdromes.

A Berlin broadcast said strong, tank-led Russian forces smashed into Nazi positions in the Lake Ilmen sector, where remnants of the German 16th army have been trapped for many weeks, but declared that the Germans had "adjusted" their lines after heavy bayonet fighting.

The German high command said a Nazi infantry division had driven back Soviet forces and taken numerous prisoners northeast of Orel, a railroad center 200 miles south of Moscow.

Soviet Claims

The Soviet information bureau said Red army men had killed 2,300 Germans in 48 hours of battle on the Leningrad front and recaptured 18 more communities on the Kalinin front.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters conceded that the Russians were pressing attacks "on several sectors" of the long, thawing front, but asserted that "our own offensive operations brought further successes."

The high command said 69 Soviet planes were shot down or destroyed on the ground yesterday.

DNB, the official German news agency, quoted Nazi general staff officers as saying that winter warfare had "completely exhausted the strength of the Soviet armies." The news agency also reported that spring mud was "rendering roads impassable" and thus precluding large-scale movements.

RAF at Work

British RAF bombers, relentlessly continuing their great spring aerial offensive, struck again into the German Ruhr and Rhineland overnight despite "bad weather" and shot down 17 Nazi war foundries. The attack followed a cross-channel thrust by more than 300 RAF bombers Sunday night.

"Damage was caused to houses in residential quarters," a Berlin statement said. "There were some dead and injured among the civilian population."

German bombers fired a British destroyer docked at a point on the south English coast and scored hits on a radio station, the German high command announced.

The German radio said 307 Russian and 68 British planes had been shot down in aerial combat between March 29 and April 4.

Alexandria, site of the great British naval base, was raided by Axis bombers last night and eight persons were killed and 32 wounded. The Egyptian ministry of interior

FLASHES of LIFE

By Associated Press

MONOTONOUS

COLUMBUS, Ind., April 7 — State Policeman Nate Bush stopped a speeder on U. S. highway 31. The speeder said he was hurrying to the home of a sick relative and Bush let him go.

He stopped a second speeder who told him the same thing and Bush let him go.

A third speeder gave the same excuse and Bush ordered him into court.

Then Bush stopped a fourth speeder and, would you believe it, he was hurrying to the home of a sick relative. Bush ordered him into court, and he paid a fine.

POPULAR

ALLEGHANY, N. Y., April 7 — Charles A. Shafer retained his village board seat in the same way he first won it — by a boy drawing his name from a hat.

Shafer and his opponent, George Kahn, each received 76 votes in a village election March 17. Officials resorted to the boy and hat to break the tie.

In 1938, Shafer tied the incumbent candidate, then won on the draw.

AMMUNITION

SALT LAKE CITY, April 7— This is one taste of the old west that somebody isn't going to like.

Salt Lake county deputy sheriffs are recasting 78 pounds of muzzle-loading bullets given them by Mrs. Leslie G. Young.

The ammunition was brought to Utah by Mrs. Young's grandfather in 1862.

DOUBLE DUTY

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 7 — The highway department's giant road magnet is doing double duty in its war effort.

In the first 342 miles covered, the magnet picked up more than a ton of metal pieces which could shred tires.

The metal was contributed to the war salvage collection.

$25,000 SALARY LIMIT PROPOSED BY UNION BOARD

DETROIT, April 7 (AP) — United Automobile Workers (CIO) executive board proposed today a legal limit of $25,000 a year on family and individual incomes for the war's duration, in return for which union workers would accept non-negotiable defense bonds in lieu of all overtime pay for more than 40 hours a week.

The UAW-CIO international board presented these proposals in what it termed an "equality of sacrifice" program to a special conference of delegates from local unions.

Other parts of the program included rigid price fixing on all necessities and limiting war production profits to three per cent on capital investment.

Act on Recommendation

Union delegates were asked to act on the national CIO's executive board recommendation that double-time wages for Sunday and holiday work be waived in response to suggestions from President Roosevelt and Donald M. Nelson, war production chief.

Acceptance of this was recommended by the radio unions, based provided that time and a half were paid for work over eight hours a day or 40 hours a week, time and a half for a sixth consecutive day's work, and double time for a seventh.

The board recommended that the union reaffirm its pledge against strikes during the war, that the union increase war production "to the utmost by all means available," and that swing shifts be established on a 48-hour, seven-day week operations.

The nine points of the "equality of sacrifice" program, upon whose adoption the defense bond waiver time pay would be contingent, were:

SYNTHETIC PLAN SET FOR RUBBER

WASHINGTON, April 7 (U.P.)—Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones today told the senate defense investigating committee that the government's synthetic rubber program "will give us rubber we can use, and in large quantities."

Detailing the numerous difficulties that stood in the way of the creation of a vast new synthetic rubber industry, Jones emphasized that some of the questions it raised are still unsettled.

"We don't know," he said, "whether we have the right answer now, but we do believe the method we have adopted will give us rubber we can use and in large quantities.

"We are going all the way, as far as the authority we have got, and the 'know how' we've got."

The government's present synthetic rubber program—stepped up repeatedly as the rubber shortage became more critical—calls for production capacity of 700,000 tons annually by the end of next year.

BOISE, April 7 (AP)—Approximately $250,000 will be spent in Idaho during 1942 by the Pullman company to protect railroad bridges and tunnels from sabotage, the Idaho public utilities commission was advised.

No California Japs for U. of I., Governor Says

By TOM JOHNSON

Who wants 300 Japs?

"The University of Idaho might want some," it was suggested late yesterday afternoon by the University of California, which is faced with the problem of evacuating American-born Japanese students from the campus at Berkeley.

Idaho was listed as one of 14 inland universities "which have expressed willingness to accept some of the students."

No, Says Governor

Governor Chase A. Clark, who was in Twin Falls to speak at the Army day celebration, was requested by the Times-News to comment on the possibility of the Japanese students enrolling at Moscow.

"Let me see that story," said Clark, reaching for the Associated Press dispatch from Berkeley and adjusting his glasses in a jiffy.

The governor—who recently declared he is opposed to any such plan—spotted a phrase in the story, that the Japanese "are students who must be evacuated from the University of California campus."

Clark removed his glasses and declared:

"I oppose the evacuation to Moscow of Japanese who are considered too dangerous to reside in Berkeley."

Idahoans Only

The governor pointed out that the University of Idaho serves citizens of this state, "and not Japanese evacuees from California or anywhere else."

Clark peered into the Army day crowd at city park and called for Asher B. Wilson, newly-elected chairman of the board of regents of the University of Idaho.

"Asher," said the governor, "have you read this story from California?"

Wilson scanned the copy and backed up Clark by declaring he, too,

Nelson, the coroner said, was attempting to wire a connection for an electric pump for use in watering horses when the mishap occurred. He was alone at the time but his body was discovered some 10 or 15 minutes later.

Investigation in the case was conducted by Sheriff W. F. Manifold, Deputy Clyde Craig and Dr. O. A. Moellmer.

Mr. Nelson was born Jan. 27, 1895, at Antimony, Utah.

Bike Riders Told To Observe Every Traffic Statute

BOISE, April 7 (AP)—State Safety Director E. T. Spencer warned bicycle riders to observe traffic regulations and give proper hand signals for turns as the hazards are going to be even greater with more adults riding bicycles because of war restrictions on cars.

Six cyclists were killed last year in Idaho traffic, he said, and 24 were injured.

Sugar Firm Listed As Jap Employer

IDAHO FALLS, Ida., April 7 (U.P.) —Sheriff Harry Meppen today reported most of the 21 Japanese which have come into this area from the pacific coast on special travel permits listed the Utah-Idaho Sugar company as their employer.

Paul Scalley, manager for the sugar company here, said that the government required the listing of an employer and that the company permitted its name to be used until the Japanese were assigned to farmers.

Enrollees will receive the rating of technicians and will be paid up to $100 per month, Hopper declared.

NEUTRAL?

SUN VALLEY, April 7 (U.P.)—An Oriental-looking youngster named Tai Sun was challenged today by Jim Grimm, an attendant at the ski shop here.

"What nationality are you," Grimm demanded.

Tai, an undergraduate at the University of California, son of Dr. Sun Fo, leader of the Chinese legislature, nephew of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, and grandson of Dr. Sun Yat-sen replied:

"I'm Swiss."

Production of Durable Goods To Be Halted

WASHINGTON, April 7 (U.P.) — War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson said today that the American civilian consumers will find few, if any, heavy durable goods to buy in the coming months and that private construction of homes and buildings will come to a virtual halt.

Reporting that munitions production and war construction exceeded $2,500,000,000 in March, Nelson said—that for months there would be little or no production of consumers' durable goods.

He ruled out the use of scarce plastics as substitutes for metals in heavy durable goods.

No exactly comparable figures for war production in previous months were available, Nelson said, but federal expenditures on the war effort in March, were roughly $3,000,000,000 which compared with about $1,000,000,000 spent for defense in March 1941, and $2,000,000,000 in December.

Conversion of more plants to war production will speedily increase the flow of guns, munitions, planes, tanks and ships.

"The next two or three months will be a period of difficult adjustment for the nation in general and the industrial producers and employes engaged in the operations which are restricted," Nelson said at a press conference.

Idaho to Furnish 75 Car Mechanics

BOISE, Ida., April 7 (U.P.)—Enlistment of 75 Idaho automobile mechanics and maintenance men for immediate duty in a corps of tank technicians must be completed by May 5, E. R. Hopper of the Idaho Automobile Dealers' association reported today.

The automobile dealers were entrusted with enlistments of the mechanic force, according to Hopper who has been appointed to head up one of eight battalions being formed among men qualified primarily in the maintenance and repair of automotive material.

Enrollees will receive the rating of technicians and will be paid up to $100 per month, Hopper declared.

Change Predicted In French Leader

PARIS, April 7 (AP)—Jean Luchaire, editor of the German-sponsored Paris newspaper Les Nouveaux Temps, predicted today that "France will have a new government at the end of this week or the beginning of the next—unless she has agreed to commit suicide for the benefit of President Roosevelt."

Luchaire, who is also president of the Paris Journalists' union, said that if "political association between unoccupied France and the Anglo-American bloc" should continue, the axis would take "measures more harmful to our country than all the diplomatic breaks imaginable between France and the United States."

REDUCTION SEEN IN SHIP ATTACKS

WASHINGTON, April 7 (U.P.) — Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox said today there was a sharp reduction in submarine attacks off the Atlantic coast last week, due in part to effective, stepped-up anti-submarine measures by the navy.

Knox told a press conference only one merchant ship—a tanker—was attacked in coastal shipping lanes last week.

He emphasized, however, that too much significance should not be placed in the sharp drop in merchant ship casualties because the Germans have a habit of carrying out attacks in periodic waves.

But there has been a very aggressive campaign to enhance ship protection along the Atlantic coast," he added.

The navy said the navy is giving "very careful study" to the possible need for taking over the merchant marine. But no definite decisions have been reached.

"We are encountering some difficulty manning merchant ships, particularly those that go on long overseas voyages," he said. "How the problems will be solved has not been decided."

He denied reports that the navy had asked the White House for an executive order which would permit the navy to take over the merchant marine.

MINE-TO-MARKET FUNDS ALLOTTED

BOISE, April 7 (U.P.)—Public Works Administrator Allen C. Merrill said today Idaho had been allotted $183,000 for mine-to-market roads from the $150,000,000 federal defense highway fund which requires no matching with state funds.

Definite commitments are expected soon, he added, commenting that engineering would be sent into the field immediately thereafter.

A $68,000 allocation was asked for the proposed McCall-Stibnite road for the purpose of surveys on the 68-mile route to the center of the tungsten and antimony production. Cost of construction would be $750,000. Also proposed is a road from Stibnite to Cascade is used.

Funds have been made available, according to Merrill, for a 64-mile road along Boise river's middlefork to Atlanta and a 21-mile road over which the South Mountain Mining company in Owyhee county transports silver, lead and zinc ore to the Idaho-Oregon-Nevada cutoff at Jordan Valley, Ore.

Atlanta long has been an Idaho gold center and the Talache mines now are preparing to produce tungsten there, Merrill said.

Drop Registered In State's Debt

BOISE, Ida., April 7 (U.P.)—The net debt of the state of Idaho dropped to $824,031 on March 31, a decrease of nearly $1,200,000 from the previous month, State Treasurer Myrtle E. Eskling reported today.

At the same time, the total in the treasury climbed from $7,384,654 on Feb. 28 to $8,077,387 at the end of March. Bonded debt was reduced $107,000 during March to bring the total down to $1,836,600; and registered general fund warrants outstanding were sliced from $397,198 in February to $320,724 in March.

Brazil Merchant Ship Unreported

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 7 (U.P.)— The Brazilian merchant ship Cabedello, which sailed from Philadelphia Feb. 14, with 55 persons aboard, is missing and presumed lost, the government announced today.

Allied Planes Aim New Drive at Jap Bases for Invasion

Japanese Make Gain In Philippine Battle

By MACK JOHNSON

WASHINGTON, April 7 (U.P.)—For the third time in as many days the war department said today that the Japanese had made gains on Bataan peninsula in furious around-the-clock assault.

"Casualties were heavy on both sides," today's communique said.

It was the first time since the Japanese started their heavy attacks on Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright's lines that the official reports told of heavy losses to the American-Filipino forces as well as the Japanese.

The communique said that the enemy continued attacks on the center of Wainwright's line, stretching across the 13-mile-wide peninsula from Manila bay to the China sea, throughout yesterday, "with some success."

Japanese bombardment of Wainwright's rear lines and the south coast of Bataan, across a narrow strip of water from Corregidor fortress, "was particularly severe," the communique added.

Plane Destroyed

A low-flying amphibian plane was destroyed on the water of Manila bay by an American anti-aircraft battery firing horizontally.

Enemy artillery from the shore of Cavite province across Manila bay from the tip of Bataan shelled Corregidor and Fort Hughes unremittingly for two hours yesterday afternoon, the communique added, but caused no damage. The guns of American forts in the bay laid down an intense counterfire on Japanese mainland emplacements.

For the fourth consecutive day there were no reports of aerial attacks on Corregidor, the rock over which Wainwright's accurate anti-aircraft gunners have taken a high toll of Japanese planes.

The communique devoted three short paragraphs to the Philippine theater and went on to disclose that two Netherlands forces "of considerable size" are continuing to fight the Japanese in the interior jungles and mountains of Java.

Dutch Still Fight

The Dutch forces, one under General Schilling and another under General Pressman, are well supplied with food and munitions and "are engaging a considerable force of the enemy," the communique said.

This news of continued fighting on Japanese-occupied Java came from Australia where Dr. Huberius van Mook, acting head of the Netherlands Indies government, conferred with Gen. Douglas MacArthur today.

The two men, according to the communique, discussed at length the "considerable part" which Dutch forces are expected to play as the war continues in the northwestern Pacific.

There was no effort, meanwhile, to conceal the fact that Wainwright's battle-scarred forces on Bataan face the hardest tests since the war started four months ago.

Lieut. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, conqueror of Malaya and Singapore, is throwing everything he can find at them—waves of assault troops from more than 200,000-man army, dive bombers, artillery, tanks, and sea-borne 75 mm. guns.

SUGAR REGISTER SET MAY 4, 5, 6, 7

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7 (U.P.)— Harry Camp, office of price administration regional director, today announced the long-proposed sugar registration has been set for May 4, 5, 6 and 7 under direction of 1,000 teachers in 240,000 grade schools.

Camp's announcement came after he conferred here yesterday with state administrators of California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona and their assistants.

War ration book No. 1 will be issued upon application, through the head of a family unit, or individually, to every man, woman and child in the United States except those in the armed forces, inmates of institutions and persons permanently in hospitals and convalescent homes.

Spud Promotion To Start July 1

BOISE, April 7 (AP)—Promotion of early Idaho potatoes will start July 1, the state advertising commission disclosed.

EIGHT YEAR SENTENCE

NEW YORK, April 7 (U.P.) — Nick Dean, former Chicago night club operator, was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000 today for conspiring to extort more than $1,000,000 from major motion picture producers.

PRODUCTION

ANNISTON, Ala., April 7 (AP)— A physician applying to the rationing board here for a permit to buy a new automobile was asked if he was "engaged in the production of war materials."

This was his answer:

"During the month of March, 1942, I attended the birth of 31 babies and had to miss several more because of my inability to get to them. I will average about 20 a month throughout the year.

"I believe this would come under war materials, maybe not for this war but for the next one."

The board's decision has not been announced.

Gas Termed Humane Way Of Warfare

PALO ALTO, Calif., April 7 (AP)— Gas is a lot more humane than other means of warfare, officers of the chemical warfare service told the war department civilian defense school today.

"Strongest advocate of the humaneness of gas was Major T. O. Thompson, who once was told by an army surgeon that he would never be able to talk again because of the effects of mustard gas.

"Gas stays close to the ground and travels with the wind," Thompson said. "You can always step nimbly aside, or climb a tree, but you can't dodge shrapnel.

"Getting gassed is not as bad as stopping a piece of shrapnel. You can recover from the effects of gas without a scar. Shrapnel will always leave a mark. If you recover."

If a gas attack comes, Thompson advised, "get on the upwind side of the gas. Stay indoors. Avoid contact with the liquid. Stay in a gas-proof room, if possible."

FBI TAKES ALIEN PICKED UP HERE

Chief of Police Howard Gillette announced this afternoon that a German alien arrested here late Saturday night has been taken to Boise by an agent of the FBI.

The man, Ferdinand Cornella, 48, who gave his home address as Auburn, Calif. He was arrested and charged with traveling about without a permit.

Ogrzalla was picked up in the Union Pacific railroad yards. The agent of the FBI arrived here last night and left for Boise with the prisoner late this afternoon.

Gillette said that the man would be held "pending decision of the United States attorney in this case."

Tyrone Power to Seek Enlistment

NEW YORK, April 7 (U.P.) — Tyrone Power, film star, applied for enlistment in the United States naval reserve today and passed his physical examination.

He said he had received permission to complete one more picture in Hollywood in the event he is accepted and assigned to duty.

SONG

BOISE, April 7 (AP) — "That song" was blamed today for the car-stealing excursion of five Portland, Ore., boys from their home city to Council, Ida., where they were arrested.

U. S. Marshal Edward Bryan, who said the youths stole six cars, declared the five juveniles told him they were listening to the radio when out came the strains of "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

"Then some one said, 'let's go.' And we did."

They will be turned over to the Multnomah county, Oregon, domestic relations department.

BRITISH LEADERS GIVE CONCESSION ON INDIA DEMAND

By the Associated Press

United Nations bombers and fighters aimed another smash at Japanese bases on the approaches to Australia today while Great Britain made a major concession in an effort to win the aid of India's millions in the struggle to prevent a union of Nippon and Nazi warriors in thp near east.

With Indian leaders shying away from British offers of freedom after the war if India will help Britain during the battle, an Indian official said London had agreed to appoint an Indian as defense minister.

It was India's opposition to a British plan that London boss the defense of India during the war that prompted the natives to oppose the whole program.

Despite the new concession, some observers predicted the entire plan was doomed to fail.

Asks Stern Measures

Of a decidedly different opinion was Mahendra Nath Roy, former Communist who now heads an Indian "win the war group." Calling attention to Japanese air attacks on India, he demanded a halt to all political bickering and immediate stern measures to save India from the fate of Malaya.

Previously, Britain's take-it-or-leave-it proposals had insisted on complete British control of India's defense effort.

The concession came as leaders of India's 390,000,000 still shied at full wartime cooperation with the United Nations, despite the fact that Japanese warplanes have already attacked her cities, and as signs pointed to a new breakdown in the important negotiations.

United States and Australian bombers and fighters attacked Japanese-held Lae in New Guinea, damaging several enemy aircraft, Melbourne officials announced.

The Japanese threw up intensive anti-aircraft fire, but no effective interception was encountered.

Volunteer Corps

Residents of Ceylon island, where the Japanese lost over half of invading air fleet two days ago, formed a volunteer corps for defense against invasion.

Reports from Australia said many Netherlands fliers had escaped from India to Java and were back in Australia ready to take up the fight once more.

Madras, on the east coast of India, had an air raid warning, but no bombs were dropped.

On the American home front, Navy Secretary Knox announced that Washington that German U-boat attacks on shipping along the Atlantic coast had dropped off considerably last week and said the decline might be attributed to the

DEATH TOLL FOR TRAFFIC DECLINES

BOISE, April 7 (U.P.) — Thirteen fewer persons were killed in Idaho traffic accidents in the first quarter of 1942 compared with a year earlier.

Law Enforcement Commissioner J. L. Balderston announced today 19 had been killed this year against 31 in 1941.

One less died in January, five less in February and seven less in March, when the month total was three, equal to the low recorded only twice before in recent years.

Custer county led the quarter in deaths with three, followed when three members of one family were killed when a truck hit a snowdrift and overturned.

Canyon and Twin Falls counties each had two deaths; Bingham, Benewah, Bonneville, Boundary, Clearwater, Gem, Jefferson, Jerome and Kootenai each one.

"Driving too fast for conditions can be summed up as the cause for the greater part of the accidents the first three months," Balderston commented.

"The summary shows seven died in non-collisions, four pedestrians were killed, three died in automobile collisions, one died in a railroad crossing accident and one motorcycle struck a tree. Icy roads and snow conditions were responsible for 13 deaths."

INVENTORY DATE

BOISE, April 7 (AP)—C. C. Anderson, chairman of the state rationing board, announced the date for filing typewriter inventories with local rationing boards has been advanced from April 6 to April 13.

WEST COAST'S OCD HEAD REJECTS PLEA FOR MARTIAL LAW

AXIS PROPAGANDA BLAMED FOR TALK

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7 (U.P.)—Proponents of an immediate declaration of martial law in the eight western states "are but the victims of a subtle form of Japanese and German propaganda," James C. Sheppard, director of the ninth civilian defense region, said last night in his first statement of policy.

Sheppard spoke over the Pacific network of the Columbia Broadcasting system. It was his first such statement since his appointment as director of civilian defense activities for the eight western states March 18, 1942.

He lashed out at "skeptical people" who believed martial law the solution to their fears, present and national problems, saying "in the last analysis the individual's problems in this war lies in his own hands."

"Civilian defense," he said, "means the mobilization of 130,000,000 people—not on order, not on command, but by their own free will.

Must Assume Responsibilities

"It means that the American people individually and collectively have decided in their own hearts and minds to assume the responsibilities and obligations of defending themselves in their own domestic area."

The functions of the office of civilian defense within the eight western states, he said, were: Mobilization of the civilian population, information, civilian and property protection and evacuation.

"If you are participating and helping in this great work of training the civilian to do his or her job you are a citizen soldier—just as vital at the rear at the front."

Criticizing the proposal to establish martial law, Sheppard said:

"If you are so foolish as to want the army to govern and police the 10,000,000 people in an area of more than one-third of the United States, how in the name of heaven do you expect our army and navy to defend our shores and bomb Japan to its knees?

"Too much do we worry and speak about when and where we may be attacked or bombed. Of course, we may be attacked. But we must have the will to win this war—not merely the will to defend our borders.

"If you have volunteered and are doing your job as an enlisted member of the civilian defense corps and in this job of offense, defense and production, we will win this war—working, marching and singing. This is our challenge. This is our job," he said.

Seven jobs in the OCD's immediate program were listed by Sheppard as follows:

Forest fire protection, plant protection, uniform blackout regulations, protective concealment, assignment of fire and police equipment to be loaned to municipalities by OCD; compensation of war injuries; a uniform evacuation program to take care of persons made homeless by enemy action.

Patrol Activity

The British general headquarters communique on the Libyan front said only: "Patrol activity continued throughout the day yesterday. There was nothing else to report."

The Italian high command reported there had been lively patrol activity on both sides on the Libyan battle front and said Italian planes attacked Britain Concentrations southeast of El Mechili.

It said the British lost eight planes—six in an attempted raid on Derna—and two in a raid on Bengasi which "caused only slight damage."

Malta was attacked again by bombers, the Italians added.

The British destroyer Havoc has been set afire and sunk by Italian naval units, Rome added.

The Bremen radio said that an Italian submarine returning from operations in the Atlantic fields of sinking three vessels aggregating more than 20,000 tons, London Exchange Telegram reported.

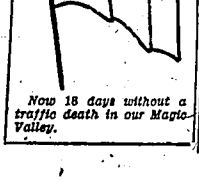

Cars Involved in 2 Minor Crashes

Two minor automobile crashes were recorded in Twin Falls yesterday afternoon, police reported today.

At 3:45 p. m. cars driven by Chester Jarvis and Merle McCrea crashed at the intersection of Third street and Second avenue south.

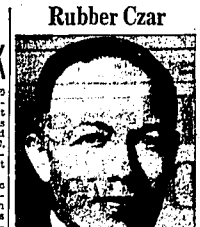

Earlier in the day, during the noon hour, a pickup truck operated by John Nye and a private car driven by Esther M. Van Hoosen crashed in the 300 block of Second avenue west.

NO 'OUTSIDE' JAP STUDENTS—CLARK

is opposed to the admittance of Japanese evacuees on the Moscow campus.

Wilson Joins No

"The policy is to take American-born Japanese graduates of Idaho high schools, but not to accept them from outside the state," said Wilson.

The chairman indicated he had the power to call a special meeting of the board of regents to see that the policy is maintained at a time when coastal states are trying to evacuate Japanese.

Late last night, President Harrison C. Dale was interviewed at Moscow and he told the Associated Press: "Although there may be individual exceptions, the University of Idaho will not deviate from its policy of not accepting Japanese American students from outside the state."

It marked the second time Dale made the statement to answer contrary announcements made in Berkeley.

Down at Little Rock, Ark., the president of another of the 14 inland institutions expressed "willingness," was asked for comment on the Japanese evacuation problem.

He Explains

President Marvin Bankston of Arkansas A. & M. college said he had replied to what appeared to be a circular letter sent out by the University of California on the subject, and attempted to temper his reply so that "they would not think an Arkansas school would simply refuse to consider the question."

"Apparently," he told the Associated Press, "they got the wrong impression."

Berkeley officials wouldn't have gotten the wrong impression from Clark here yesterday afternoon.

"The University of Idaho is for Idahoans," reiterated the governor with a smile, "it is not for Japanese who are too dangerous to reside in Berkeley."

30 WPA MEN GO TO DEFENSE JOBS

Movement of an additional 30 south central Idaho WPA workers to Seattle for training in war industries was disclosed here today by R. W. Hampton, district manager at Buhl.

Among those who left Sunday from this section were P. Glenn Piercy, Twin Falls, and Olaf A. Mathews, all of Twin Falls and Ben F. Brixey and Oscel C. Sclant, Eden.

These men have been interviewed by occupational classifiers of the WPA training and reemployment division. They are being furnished transportation to Seattle and while in training there will receive $1 per day subsistence allowance.

This is the second group of WPA workers recruited in this district for training in Boeing shops at Seattle. Previously, large numbers were trained in Idaho vocational schools, and in cooperation with the vocational trade schools now have jobs in war industries or in private employment, a recent survey shows. The majority of men trained in Burley after the first group are now employed in the Sandpoint (naval) air station near Seattle and in the Bremerton navy yards.

Hampton said that because of so many WPA workers leaving for training schools and for other private employment, Idaho WPA rolls are lower for this time of year than at any like season during its history. One hundred and eighty-three WPA men have been sent from the Buhl district to the schools.

Review of Developments

The Pacific war council met with President Roosevelt to review developments in the far east and to discuss reinforcements reported streaming toward Australia.

The British government, through its special envoy, Sir Stafford Cripps, has offered India post-war dominion status, with the right for individual states to secede, in return for help in the fight against the axis. Under the plan, Britain would direct India's defenses for the duration of the war.

$33,880 LICENSE TOTAL IN MARCH

Twin Falls county residents licensed 4,254 motor vehicles and planked down $33,880 in taxes for the privilege during the month of March, it was announced today at the office of County Assessor George A. Childs.

Total of 3,394 passenger cars was registered last month before the April 1 deadline. Dean W. Millikin, chief deputy, said the passenger car registration compared "very favorable" with the March, 1941, figure of 3,402.

March, 1942, registrations and receipts were 3,394 passenger cars, $16,970; four wreckers, $48; 520 private trucks, $3,225; 240 farm trucks, $2,440; 101 commercial trucks, $4,948; 164 private trailers, $261; eight farm trailers, $40; six motorcycles, $18; two commercial trailers, $20; 13 dealers, $780; and two revised commercials, $60.

During March, 1941, in addition to the 3,403 passenger registrations, there were 338 private trucks, 440 farm trucks, 73 commercial trucks and 109 private trailers registered.

"However, since April 1, registration of trucks and trailers has been quite heavy and it appears Twin Falls county registration of motor vehicles will be near normal this year," said Millikin.

Thus far in 1942, motorists have poured $45,825 into the assessor's office for new licenses. January receipts were $17,930; February, $15,853, and March, $33,880.

CHECK LIST of Greater Farm Production

Snake River Valley farms and ranches are doing a great job of increasing farm production for war — and especially in the face of a dwindling supply of farm labor. Low-cost electric service is helping to turn the wheels of farm production. These are a few of the more important farm electric services:

- WATER PUMPING
- CHICK BROODING
- SILO FILLING
- POWER TOOLS
- WATER HEATING
- CREAM SEPARATING
- ELECTRIC MILKER
- FEED GRINDER
- FARM YARD LIGHTING
- POULTRY HOUSE LIGHTING

Electricity SERVES ON THE HOME FRONT

And in the farm home, electric cooking, water heating, refrigeration, and a score of other services, are helping the farm housewife speed and ease her daily tasks.

"SOCIAL JUSTICE"—A MISNOMER

For the duration of the war at least, public protest should put an end to "Social Justice," the wholly unChristian and unDemocratic publication championed by Charles E. Coughlin.

Many newspapers have felt that restrictions on "Social Justice" might open the way to limitations on the right of free press. Others have feared denunciation of the racial and religious slime in "Social Justice" would only spread the fame of that slime.

But now there can be only one decision.

Responsible leaders in the Catholic church, both clergy and laity, have denounced "Social Justice" so many times it is hardly necessary to point out that what is written here can in no way be considered a reflection on that great religious institution.

• • •

A New York newspaper sent men into five large cities the other day to find out what people who buy "Social Justice" are thinking and saying. Before the day was out they had these and many more quotes from the victims:

"Roosevelt is insane, just like Hitler says."

"I'm ready to rip the Jews' guts out."

"That bunch of hoodlums in Washington ain't running this thing right."

"I know fellows in the army and they're growling too. They know this gang in Washington is up to no good."

"Social Justice is the only paper that prints the truth."

Many readers are workers in war plants. Many are sending "Social Justice" to men in the armed forces.

• • •

"Social Justice" carried the front-page headline "United States Invades Ireland."

"Social Justice" recommended insurrection to men in the army and navy, saying "Some day when our soldier boys return they will drag from their hiding places the connivers, deceivers, plotters and collaborators to mete out to them their just rewards. The longer we wait for that day, the severer will be the repercussions."

"Social Justice" called democracy a mockery with these words, "Democracy! A mockery that mouths the word and obstructs every effort of an honest people to establish a government for the welfare of the people." That gem was carried in 1938 under Coughlin's signature.

"Social Justice" printed these lies: that the Nazis are the victims of a "sacred war declared against Germany nine years ago by the Jews"; that Jap aggression "is nothing more than an expansion of our own Monroe doctrine"; that the idea of a United Nations offensive is "Moscow-born and will produce a defeat abroad and the liquidation of Americanism at home."

• • •

The editors of "Social Justice" spit in the face of President Roosevelt, of MacArthur and his men, Lincoln, Washington—and every man and woman through our history who has bled that our country might stay free.

The defeatism and racial poison of "Social Justice" today amount to sedition. Every issue is an insult to America, to the press, to religion—and to you.

The call is for action. That means action against the enemy. And the enemy includes "Social Justice," for that publication is doing the enemy's work.

BROTHERLY DISCORD

Pardon us, for asking but how long must those blood-brother Aryans, Hitler and Hirohito, hold hands before they pass the presents? Strange that these two fine fellows should not return what allegedly belongs to the other.

Japan got the Caroline, Marshall and Marianne islands in the Pacific from Germany after the last war. Any reasonable person would think the Japanese — they officially made Hitler a descendant of their sun god — would give ear to Adolf's howls about restoring lost colonies.

Germany crushed the Netherlands before Japan seized the Dutch East Indies, so undoubtedly the Sons of Heaven will do the right thing and let their Nazi cousins help rule those pearls of the Pacific. Come on, boys, set us decadent nations a good example.

HOW DO YOU DENT BRASS HATS?

The American inventor of the submarine, Simon Lake, got the door slammed in his face when he offered his sea scourge to the Navy department in 1901. Later he was told by the same group, "Don't be silly," when he designed a two-man submarine. The Japs used them effectively at Pearl harbor.

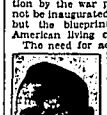

Now the same Mr. Lake gets the same brushoff from the Navy, the Maritime commission and Washington dignitaries in general with his plans for a big cargo-carrying submarine. Designed as the answer to axis sinkings of allied shipping, the cargo submarine reportedly is used by Germany.

Healthful exercise is what a man gets on a golf course that he can't possibly get from beating a carpet.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

FRAMED—Semi-darkness will fall over the land and the machinery of nonessential factories will be stilled under the drastic power rationing now in preparation by the war production board. The fade-out will not be inaugurated until late summer or early autumn, but the blueprints foreshadow a heavy pall over American living conditions.

The need for additional current will become acute in the last quarter of this year when vast chemical and metal plants will swing into operation. To supply the peak demand, numerous communities not engaged in war work will be deprived of hydro or their load reduced to a minimum through a priority arrangement. Some sections of the country will fare better than others but all will be hit. In numerous centers, especially small towns and cities, the street-lamp advertising signs and store windows will be dimmed or blacked out. In larger places like New York, where residential consumption imposes a heavy drain on the light lines, families may be required to illuminate only those rooms necessary for basic home functions. Outdoor carnivals such as night baseball games, concerts, summer theaters and beach displays will be ruled out.

RAY TUCKER

Washington's order will be almost Biblical in its severity and simplicity except that it will be in reverse. Waggish W. P. B-ers have framed the tentative command, to wit: "Let there be no light!"

COAST—Sam Rayburn's New Deal friends have given him no peace since he issued a public statement in favor of a 48-hour work-week at 40 instead of 40 hours. Although his explanation did not appease the more violent liberals, he told them that his declaration was merely a geographical accident.

It seems that the good folk of Dallas staged a Sunday mass meeting at which they adopted resolutions for longer laboring hours before the premium system became operative. A certain press association's regional chief in Texas instructed his reporter at the Capital to canvass the state delegation on their reaction to the local demonstration. The survey showed that every member agreed with the home-town sentiment. Late in the afternoon the newshawk caught up with the speaker and asked his opinion, making it clear that his statement was scheduled for publication only in the Lone Star state bailiwick. So Sam broke down and expressed himself in opposition to President Roosevelt, John L. Lewis and William Green.

When the head editor at the Capital heard this he considered the news too important for merely local sheets. He included it in the over-all labor roundup for distribution to papers on the national circuit. But the genial house boss stuck by his guns—and his words —when informed that his anti-White House views would be headlined from coast to coast.

VANITY—"Joe" Guffey recently delivered a blow for—or against—national unity by reviving some of the fiercest feuds and liveliest ghosts in the United States senate's history. His remarkable outburst won no headline notice for some strange reason, but it has set his two redoubtable victims on a quiet warpath.

In castigating administration critics, the Pennsylvanian singled out Hiram W. Johnson of California and David I. Walsh of Massachusetts. They had provoked Guffey a few days before with charges that the Pacific and Atlantic coasts had been left undefended against possible enemy attack. In reply Mr. Guffey traced the origin of present conflict to the defeat of the League of Nations and the senate's ratification of the Harding-Hughes disarmament treaty in 1922. Both the Californian and the Bay Stater lined up against the covenant and for navy scrapping. Then, pressing his attack, the historian from Pittsburgh read an excerpt from an amazing and little known letter which the late William Howard Taft wrote to a newspaper friend in 1919:

"And in general, I think of the vicious narrowness of Reed (Missouri); the explosive ignorance of Poindexter (Washington); the ponderous Websterian language and lack of stamina of Borah (Idaho); the enmity of Lodge (Massachusetts) as an old diplomatic hand on the foreign relations committee; the selfishness, laziness and narrow, lawyerlike astuteness of Knox (Pennsylvania); the inexperience of Hale (Maine) and the utter nothingness of Fall (New Mexico); in the face of all this, I confess that I don't see where we have any advantage over the women—at least not in this juncture. . ."

FATE—Mr. Guffey read another passage in which he was clearly comparing the objects of Mr. Taft's wrath with those men who now dare to question the administration's methods. Although friends and relatives of the men denounced were present on the floor, nobody arose to silence the omnivorous student of history in the name of courtesy or to defend the dead and the absentees. Some have since explained that they were too startled by his exhibition of partisanship to retaliate.

"It is American selfishness, their American pettiness, blinding them to the real interests of the nation as well as the world, that rouses me," continued the former President as quoted by the senatorial chairman. "I can see little difference between Hays (now the movie czar) waging over the errors I have made from a political standpoint, I can hear the discussions in the cloakrooms and the damning of me. I can hear my friends say: 'Taft's shown what defeated the party in 1912, and here's a repetition of it. Weren't the Progressives justified in breaking off? Taft's loyalty to the party was always weak. Now, think God, he is out of it.'

"To have incurred this condemnation of so noble a body as the Republicans of the senate, and of such a shining leader as Penn (Ohio), is certainly a sad fate, but I must bear it."

AIR—The secret of the robust health and longevity of members of congress for the last hundred years was revealed when the capitol underwent its first blackout a few weeks ago.

The discovery was made that many of the window shutters had not been operated for more than a century. Annual coats of paint and failure to swing them open periodically made it necessary to send for special tools to pry them loose. The initials of long-dead statesmen were carved on them in the curious handwriting of the pre-Victorian era.

The wise old boys of those more primitive days liked plenty of light and air, especially air. In the latter respect they did not differ from their successors.

Other Points of View

AN ENCOURAGING VOTE

The pardon board's two to one vote, against the petition of Duncan M. Johnson, former Twin Falls mayor, is encouraging, though it would be more encouraging if it were unanimous and if it were accompanied by the promise that the board will quit holding monthly trials of this man who was convicted by two district court juries.

Johnston certainly doesn't lack friends. Every week some chap bobs up with a new story about the ex-official's innocence. And he may be for all we know. But we think that fact should be reasonably well demonstrated.

We don't say that a jury's verdict should necessarily be final, but we do think it is usually entitled to a good deal more respect than Idaho pardon boards have been in the habit of giving it in recent years. —Nampa Free Press.

WANTS ACTION!

I want a positive program instead of a passive one. I want something to fight for—I'm sick and tired of having only something to fight against. I'm hungry for something to get pepped up about—I'm repelled from having only something to do—not just wait for.

I want to be told—not to remember Pearl harbor. I want to be told to take Tokyo, to bomb Berlin, to raze Rome.

I'm fed up with singing plaintive songs—I want to sing fighting songs. Don't tell me there'll be bluebirds over the white cliffs of Dover. To hell with bluebirds. Tell me there'll be vultures and a deathly silence over Berchtesgaden.

I'm bored with keeping a stiff upper lip—I want to develop a stiff uppercut; I'm tired of being made to feel sad. I want the experience—the purging, marshaling, driving experience—of being made to feel mad. Fighting mad!

You get me?—W. J. Weh, Lord & Thomas.

THE CASE OF THE ALMOST CATASTROPHE

The Pot Shots sleuths will let you constituents in today on the Case of the City Flags, or, The Almost Catastrophe. (Copyrighted and exclusive).

Monday, as you doesn't know, was Army day. Big plans were afoot for the parade and the whole program at which Hizzoner Gus'ner Chase Clark was to do the speechifying.

The day dawned (as they say in the best novels) clear and cold. The sun shone, as it frequently does. Came 10 minutes to 9 a. m. Mayor Joe Keeler gazed around with the expansive feeling that all was well and the weatherman was a right nice guy.

Suddenly the mayor discovered something terrifically wrong.

Somebody among the sundry committees had forgotten to contact the city jailbird having the flag decorations hung out downtown. There wasn't a flag in sight!

They do say the city hall scurrying set a new record.

About your squib on the guy who got off easy before the judge because he turned around in the middle of the block to save tires. As a matter of fact, Pottle, it ACTUALLY USES MORE RUBBER to turn around sharply in the middle of the block than to go to the intersection and make a gentler turn. —Rubberneck

MEMO ON FELLOW CHANGING HIS MIND

A Kimberly gent and his lady friend appeared at the recorder's office the other day. They wanted a marriage license. When the groom-to-be answered yes to the query about previous divorce, he was asked whether six months had elapsed since that divorce. Sure, says he. So they got the license and trailped out.

Ten minutes later the man came back. He held out the license and said the county better take the darn thing back. He'd gotten to figuring and discovered the necessary six months hadn't elapsed since his divorce.

The marriage license was duly torn up and deposited in the wastebasket, we presume the gent got his money back and Cupid was put on the deferred list.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

HISTORY OF TWIN FALLS

AS GLEANED FROM THE FILES OF THE TIMES-NEWS

15 YEARS AGO—APRIL 7, 1927

Sale of the Young Hardware company of this city to the Derr Hardware company of Duluth, Minn., was announced today. The purchase was made by John Derr.

The Red Knights, a local organization of young men, will entertain the Ogden band of 45 pieces which will arrive this evening overland from Ogden to give a free concert tonight, en route to the Boise Rotary convention.

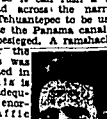

27 YEARS AGO — APRIL 7, 1915

A delegation of Twin Falls members of the Mystic Shrine journeyed to Pocatello Friday to meet Imperial Potentate Dr. Frederick R. Smith, of the Order of Mystic Shrine. The delegation from this city included C. E. Munson, H. F. Harder, W. S. Decker, M. J. Sweeley and Arthur J. Peavey.

Twin Falls is virtually certain of having a beautiful twenty thousand dollar library as the result of action taken by the city council at its meeting last night.

ANALYZING CURRENT NEWS FROM NEW YORK

LOCK—The United States has just advanced money to the Mexican government so it can rush a 125 mile railroad across the narrow isthmus of Tehuantepec to be used by us in case the Panama canal is blocked or besieged. A ramshackle line over the mountains was constructed in 1895 but this is entirely inadequate for the enormous traffic should an emergency occur. Freshly improved harbor and dock facilities at Puerto Mexico, the Atlantic terminal, and Salina Cruz, the Pacific end.

ALBERT LEMAN

The National Shirtigig two years ago announced exclusively that rebuilding of the rails by Mexico was under consideration. The Mitsui interests were angling for a parallel pipeline concession and the rumor was that Japan was putting up some extra yen to help out on the road. Promoters thought the development would appeal to shippers because freight rates would be cheaper than on the water route. Our state department frowned on the idea and engineering problems seemed so great that the plan was cancelled.

Now it is reborn with our financial aid. Beds will be blasted out of the hills and wharves made ready for cargoes. Uncle Sam will do everything possible to overcome a plugged lock. Congress is considering a sea level ditch across Nicaragua to cost more than seven hundred and twenty million dollars but since digging the Corgas ate up 11 years, the proposed cut may not be available before the war's close. As reported here recently, we have finished a new motor highway that runs along side the canal.

RUINED—If the Germans do not take advantage of the current full moon to make a token air raid on the Atlantic coast, the next danger hour is the first week in May. The wolf-wolf complex may lull the civilian population but not the army. Many officers cannot understand why the coast is held off so long. The "best bet" now has shifted. Once it was New York with vulnerable east side tenements and navy yard. The informed speculation changed to a possible attack on the munitions sectors of Detroit launched from unidentified spots around Hudson bay, Canada.

Now strategists pick Boston as a potential target. Here is a naval base, world's largest drydock, Fore River shipbuilding empire, and the ribbon of mills along the Merrimack river to the north. Before the war the government announced that this port would be departure point for supplies to Russia's Archangel. During the past few days savage attacks have been made by the Nazi air force off Norway carrying United States arms to the Soviet. Apparently Hitler is determined to cut that Soviet life line.

Boston's fish piers are also objective for a blow at New England is to spread panic in the nation's summer vacation area. Let one bomb hit the fish auction and business amounting to millions of dollars would be ruined overnight. A single explosion there could cause more financial harm than in any other spot in the country. The incomes of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont are based on tourist trade which would be frightened off.

WILY—One of the reasons why some of the Indian leaders balked at Sir Stafford Cripps' independence conditions is that they do not fear Japan. They are willing to take a chance on swapping King George for Emperor Hirohito because their contacts with Nipponese governors have been very cordial while their associations with His Majesty's men landed the patriots in jail. For the last several years Tokyo has been "softening up" her victim—not by strong-armed methods such as it used on natives in the Dutch East Indies but with the velvet glove.

Japanese colonies were set up in most of the cities and agents tabulated bits of information which were indexed for future reference by the authorities back home. They paid scant attention to the small fry Hindu or Mohammedan but concentrated on the higher castes. In Calcutta especially they maintained a sporting club which entertained lavishly. As one time most of the Japanese David Cup tennis players were members of this set. Influential rajahs, thinkers and mystics were accepted as guests and purred over.

In addition to numerous propaganda mills, the wily islanders established espionage centers which gathered military information. Steamship captains learned the treacherous mud banks of the Hugli river while under pilotage—information vital now that Jap warships have swept into the bay of Bengal. Merchant princes kept elaborate houses where Indians in the armed services were welcomed and encouraged to boast about their defensive systems.

NEPTUNE—Food ships are rushing to England to "get under the wire" before the horrific spring drive starts, for then only weapons must fill the precious cargo space. New York nutrition experts went overseas to teach the British some of our food habits since many of the lend-lease eatables were entirely strange to the cockneys. At first tinned goods were untouched because of prejudice against the *contents being "spoiled" by the con*tainer. Now they are so popular that there is an actual shortage of can openers.

Housewives did not know how to mix dried milk and when lumps developed they thought the product was ruined. After much urging the parents accepted our orange juice for babies. Now the supply is exhausted and the food ministry is feeding the vitamins through black currants and rose-hip syrup. Sweets are so rare that the famous currant bun has vanished. To frost a cake is illegal. Dates and prunes are used for their natural sugars.

People are being taught to eat periwinkles, cockles and other despised but abundant shellfish. The authorities exhibit tins of a stew of mussels will yield ten thousand pounds of edible meat containing three million calories compared with the same area output of one hundred and ninety pounds of the "roast beef of old England" supplying only five hundred thousand calories. In the case of the clamlike delicacies Father Neptune acts as "farmer" and does all the work except harvesting.

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

HOW TO HANDLE CONTRARY CHILD

At home he was called Sugar; in school he was known as Clarence Theodore. Maybe that was at the bottom of the trouble, but whatever it was it was there. Clarence Theodore just wouldn't, and the first-grade teacher couldn't believe it possible.

"He just won't," said she in astonishment.

That was correct. When the class went to get wraps he sat in his seat; when they gathered in groups to work he stood, back to the wall, his hands behind him. When they sang he scowled and shut his mouth grimly.

"You cannot do that in school, Clarence Theodore," said Miss Minnie firmly. "You must come along with us and do what we do, nicely."

Clarence Theodore said nothing. He did not need to. His whole being spoke for him and said, "I will not." Nor did he.

Once, once only, Miss Minnie tried to make him. "You have to sit down. You must sit down, and the teacher lifted him off his feet and plumped him into his chair. Instantly he rose, howling defiance, threatening murder, and took his stand, back to the wall just where he had planted his standard before the battle.

Called for Help

Miss Minnie called for help. "I can do nothing with him. He just won't," said she.

Miss Maria looked him over thoughtfully. "Let's try him in another room, and see what letting him keep on rebelling will do for him."

Accordingly Clarence Theodore was sent to another room, the understanding being that whatever he did was to be accepted as just right for him. Nobody else, of course, just Clarence Theodore.

The class grouped themselves about the tables for some work they had in hand and the teacher invited Clarence Theodore to a place at one of the tables. He said nothing, but backed against the wall. "Fine. You stand right there, my boy. We're glad you found such a comfortable place to stand, aren't we, children?"

The children grinned and one little girl said, "Isn't he dumb?"

"No," said the wise Miss Maria, eyeing the standout, "He's afraid."

Theodore Is Ignored

Then the work absorbed them and Clarence Theodore stood at his post, nobody asking him to do anything or to go anywhere. At dismissal nobody as much as suggested that he get his things and go home. When he saw the last of the class going through the door he took the hint and went for his hat and coat.

Refused by the committee read Clarence Theodore returned, to stand out. Nobody noticed. Once a busy boy tripped over his feet and scowled at him muttering. "Get out of the way, you dope." At dismissal he was the first to get his hat and coat, but next day he was back in his old stand.

It took the whole five days of the week to reduce Clarence Theodore to the common denominator of a human being, but he got down to it when the little girl who had pronounced him dumb needed something to hold a board while she nailed it down and couldn't get anybody but the standout.

"Here, you. You're doing nothing. Hold this board for me, and hold it steady, too."

Clarence Theodore was on his way.

CLAPPER'S OBSERVATIONS NATIONS AT WAR

CALCUTTA, (Delayed in Transmission)—Complaints of India's commercial interests that the British have given their war production give a distorted picture.

Informed independent sources, qualified to judge, say there has been substantial expansion, even if inadequate and below what might be expected of such an enormously rich and populous country.

The big deficiency is in heavy industry and metals. But in textiles and similar industries there is large production, especially in uniforms, shoes and camouflage nets. The silk industry is being expanded for parachute manufacture. These industries are almost fully on a war basis.

Shipping shortages and long supply lines make it necessary to provide more materials here for United Nations forces.

The big hope of any Crippe settlement is that it would make this India available. It would also stimulate support for the American technical mission in helping to plug the gaps in Indian production.

Certainly Sir Shri Ram, president of the All-India Industrial Employers Assn., said the other day: "We cannot produce a single interceptor plane, bomber or tank of any size. There is difficulty in replacing machinery parts, which must be shipped in from England now."

Groups have been sent to England for training as precision machinists, foremen and supervisors. India has a plentiful labor supply for skilled in handicraft, and adaptable to machine work. If India is going to be utilized to full value, such things must be done in increasing volume.

It has been difficult to get the necessary equipment from Britain during wartime, but it is coming and as we are sending an industrial mission, we are prepared to follow through with equipment.

• • •

One vital question raised is the defense of eastern India, particularly the Bengal-Calcutta region, where heavy industry would center if Malaya and Singapore are lost. This area is nearest the Japanese advance. If Burma is completely occupied, this area will be under severe threat.

Therefore, two things are necessary: One, adequate defense of eastern India; the other, decentralization of war industry toward the Bombay and Karachi areas.

The Japanese also threaten the bay of Bengal, Ceylon, the Indian Ocean and Madagascar. If the Japanese should succeed in establishing bases at those points, then United Nations lines to India is well as to the Middle East and Russia would be under severe attack—if not severed.

So we come back again to the necessity of holding the main middle east supply line against the German-Japanese pincers this summer.

PTA 'Block Mothers' Will Aid Air-Wardens

Explanation of a new plan whereby each city block in Twin Falls will have a "block mother"—representative of one of the five Parent-Teacher associations in the city—to cooperate with block air raid wardens under the civilian defense setup was made by Mrs. Frank G. Kleffner, who was installed as president of the Twin Falls P.-T. A. council for her second term at a meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Grant Kunkle. Attended by 75 women, the meeting was termed outstanding in the council's history.

Mrs. J. R. Neilson served as installing officer, and Mrs. Kleffner announced appointment of committee chairmen for the ensuing year.

New Committee

Appointed by Mrs. Kleffner to serve on the "block mother" committee were Mrs. Loyal L. Perry, council safety chairman; Mrs. Charles Young, Bickel P.-T. A. president; Mrs. Ralph Elliott, Lincoln P.-T. A. president; Mrs. Earl Walker, Washington P.-T. A. president, and Mrs. Earl Johnson, Junior-Senior P.-T. A. head.

The city will be divided into four zones, with committee members as captains of each zone. P.-T. A. room mothers of local organizations will be in charge of designated number of blocks, and will supervise work of "block mothers" in their territory.

Others Installed

Bledsoe, hospitality; Mrs. H. H. Burkhart, record book; Mrs. Elmer Phillips, study group; Mrs. Loyal Perry, safety, and Mrs. M. S. Purcell, publicity.

Mrs. Kleffner gave short resumes of work done during past year by each committee, and as a surprise two Camp Fire Girls in service forms, Barbara Johnson and Muriel Pugliano, pinned corsages of daffodils tied with blue ribbon to shoulders of last year's chairmen.

A corsage was presented to Mrs. Kleffner by Mrs. J. E. Hayes, and later the hostess committee presented her with a bouquet of yellow and gold blooms, featuring P.-T. A. colors.

Meeting Called

Mrs. Chugg announced a special meeting for all P.-T. A. presidents, and past and present hot lunch chairmen, to be held at her home, 211 Ninth avenue east, Thursday at 2 p. m. to inaugurate a drive for vegetables for next year's hot lunch program.

"Moon Is Down" Given Review at A. A. U. W. Session

Mrs. Frank J. Haynes reviewed "The Moon Is Down," John Steinbeck, at a meeting of the Book Review group of the American Association of University Women last evening at the home of Mrs. H. A. Ball, 1544 Poplar avenue.

She described it as being the first imaginative story to be written about the recent German occupation of a conquered country, and could be any small village.

Probably Norway

Mrs. Haynes pointed out that while the Nazis are never mentioned by name, and the Leader is never called Hitler, it is presumed that Steinbeck is writing about the German occupation of Norway. He made a bicycle tour through Norway in 1939.

Different from anything else Steinbeck has written, particularly in the type of characterization, the book is threaded with subtle humor, the reviewer observed.

Typical Plain People

It is the story of timid, ordinary people one could find in any country, and shows that while at first they are bewildered at how to deal with the conquerers, when once resolved, they go into action with sabotage and a slowing down of industry.

All are major characters, but Colonel Lancer, a German officer who declares "I'm tired of people who have not been at war and who know all about it," and the mayor of the village, are probably the most outstanding.

Two Typical Young Americans

"The parade will come from that way," Susan Haslam indicates to her younger sister, Janet. Too young to carry flags in yesterday's Army day parade, they found the patriotic demonstration interesting, nevertheless. It was Army day, all right, but the Navy didn't let down for a minute—on to appeal to "Enlist in the Navy and free the world"—as verified by the poster in the background. (Staff Photo-Engraving).

Parades Are New Part Of Youngsters' Lives

By JEAN DINKELACKER
(Times-News Social Editor)

These Twin Falls youngsters have learned a lot about parades in the last few days.

First it was the Easter parade of Sunday, and they were a "hit" in that, with their adorable, matching Easter suits.

Then it was the Army day parade on Monday. They came to town 45 minutes ahead of the big event.

Important Easter

Sunday was the most important Easter in Janet's life, as she attended Sunday school for the first time on that day.

Escorted by her sister, she went to the Presbyterian church and "sang songs," she confided proudly yesterday.

Susan and Janet wouldn't realize it, but they were typical of thousands of young Americans, who in the spring of 1942 were still able to go about living in the American way.

They were able to go to the Sunday school of their choice, and to have new clothes, made of real wool, instead of substitute fabrics.

Cederquist's Relatives

They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. (Spec) Haslam, and the granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cederquist.

Mr. Cederquist is a past president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Umbrellas and pussywillows will be featured in decorations, General dance plans are under direction of Mrs. Mel Carter, assisted by Mrs. Roy King.

One of the outstanding cultural achievements of the second ward M.I.A. this year is organization of the orchestra with Mel Carter and Mrs. Mel Cutler as directors. Mrs. Mel Carter is business manager, and the first and second ward musicians are assisted by LaVere Hutchings, M.I.A. music director.

Personnel includes Junior Hansen, Johnny Hughes, Miss Nola Jean Carter, Marlell Yates, Roy King, Mel Jensen and Glen Jones.

A FORMULA THAT'S ABOVE SUBSTITUTES

There's no particular secret to the formula for BUTTER-KRUST Bread, although it represents years of expert and untiring effort to produce the best loaf possible. That substitutes have no place in this formula, is probably the most significant reason for BUTTER-KRUST'S outstanding quality. Necessary sweetening is provided by pure beet sugar. Pure leaf lard is the only shortening we would consider. And all other ingredients are of the same high standard. That's another reason for BUTTER-KRUST'S superiority.

ST. LOUIS CARDS' HEAD HOMEWARD BOASTING GREAT RECORD

Manager Still Faces Problem At First Base

DURHAM, N. C., April 7 (U.P.)—The St. Louis Cardinals, general favorites to win the National league pennant, made their first stop on the homeward trek north today to play the Detroit Tigers.

The Cardinals concluded six weeks of training topped only by the Pittsburgh Pirates among National league teams in the grapefruit league standings, but with first base and left field positions unfilled.

"It isn't as if Manager Billy Southworth was worrying himself sick. The Cardinals have won 19 of their 28 exhibition games, all with major league opposition. His pitching staff has measured up to glowing expectations, and the attack has been moderately good, although noticeably lacking in the big wallop left by Johnny Mize in previous years.

Hasn't Given Up

Southworth has the proven Johnny Hopp to play either first base or left field. But he hasn't given up on Ray Sanders, the American association's "most valuable" player last season who was the first-baseling for Columbus, or Stan Musial, the reformed pitcher who batted .426 in 14 games last September.

Sanders has been batting around .300, but most of his hits have come in bunches and his plate work has lacked consistency. Southworth believes he may find himself away from the glare of the Florida sun.

Musial, who has been likened by Southworth to Paul Waner, hasn't been able to hit .200 this spring.

Walker Hits Hard

But the 23-year-old Harry Walker, brother of Brooklyn's Dixie Walker, has been clubbing the ball at close to a .400 pace.

On the way north, Southworth plans to play both Walker and Musial and keep Sanders on first base.

Terry Moore is the club's center fielder and Enos Slaughter will play right. This leaves Musial, Walker, a promising young slugger named Erv Dusak or Hopp for left field.

The infield will have Sanders or Hopp at first, Frank Crespi, who has looked even better than last season, at second base; the lanky, but agile and smooth-fielding Martin Marion at short and the hard-working Jimmy Brown at third.

Gus Mancuso, Walker Cooper and Ken O'Dea will share the catching.

Nine Veterans On Burley's Track Squad

BURLEY, April 7—Despite nine lettermen returning to bolster this year's track team, Coach Paul Jones states there is "very slim chance of winning the district meet this year."

Burley lacks experienced sprint men, it needs more distance men, and has only meager prospects in the field events; but with the largest turnout in several seasons, Coach Jones may be able, to develop much of the green material that is now at work with.

Returning lettermen this year are John Banner, low hurdles and relay; Jim Burke, pitching; Junior Eddy Brooks, mile; Ralph Crane, hurdles and high jump; Albert Klink, middle distances; Merville Robinson, high jump; Jay Evans, hurdles and Jones Evans, weights.

Seniors won the annual interclass meet. Scores were seniors, 61; juniors, 42; sophomores, 16; and freshmen, 22. Albert Klink collected 16½ points for the seniors and Wesley Bell came next with 12 for the freshmen.

Meet results:

220 yard: Warren Hick, Brooks, Klink, Pace. Time, 24.6 sec.

440 yard: Klink, Burke, Leigh, Simmons. Time, 59.6 sec.

High hurdles: Banner, Robinson, Evans, League. Time, 17.6 sec.

High jump: Robinson, Judd, Wesley Bell, Crane, Height, 5 feet, 6½ inches.

Shot-put: Jones, Henderson, Perkins, Gibson. Distance 111 feet, 10 inches.

180-Day Racing Season to Open At Jamaica Park

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP)—New York City's longest-racing program in recent years—180 days—starts Thursday at Jamaica and how near it comes to its scheduled finale on Nov. 4 is a question on which not even the most ardent bettor will hazard the customary $2.

The metropolitan season opens with the New York officials of the sport warmly criticized for not announcing their plans for tying racing into the national war effort.

Racing will carry its share of the burden, they answer, but the exact method cannot be determined until it is known to what extent the war-minded fans will respond—both at the turnstiles and at the betting windows.

Idaho's Cage Champs Lose To Utah, 33-31

SALT LAKE CITY, April 7 (UP)—Davis high school of Kaysville defeated Pocatello, Ida., high school 33-31 last night in an overtime period of a thrilling, expertly-played basketball game, but the contest did nothing towards determining whether Utah or Idaho prep teams play the best court game.

Each team had won the 1942 high school championship of its state. Both clubs played brilliantly, leaving no doubt of their championship caliber in the minds of 2,700 fans who witnessed the contest.

Sharing the University of Utah field house floor during the benefit basketball program for the navy relief society fund were Granite high school, runner-up to Davis this year, and Lowell, Wo., west LDS ward Men team. The Utah youngsters tripped the all-LDS (Mormon) church champions, 37-22.

Not Much to Choose

There wasn't much to choose between the Utah and Idaho prep champs. Pocatello led 6-5 at the quarter and 15-13 at halftime. The score was knotted five times before Davis jumped to a 30-26 lead. But guards Wally Kelly and Ray Jensen pumped in a pair of buckets for the Idahoans to tie up the game at 30-all as the game ended.

Both teams missed three chances for field goals in the overtime period before forward Joe Winters pulled down a long pass and pitched in the winning two-pointer for Davis.

If there was an outstanding player among the star-studded teams it was Ray Jensen of Pocatello. Accurate and sure, the Idaho ace played the type of game that reminded one of Bill Strannigan, Wyoming ace center, who was voted the most recently AAU tournament all-American basketball player.

Lineup Cut Out

Center Junior Child and forward Leland Galbraith made eight points each for Davis, Jensen and Satterfield, both guards, got seven apiece for the losers.

The loss of Don Lindsay, center, via the foul route with 13 minutes of playing time remaining in the game, hindered Pocatello's cause.

Coast League Set to Start 2nd Week Play

By the Associated Press

Coast league baseball, kept at a slow pace by opening week weather, was set to get its full stride today. Seattle and San Francisco, idle since opening day efforts in which they chalked up a win each, lead the league.

Seattle, No. 1 club for the past three years, appeared to have a comparatively easy assignment against San Diego, which has lost all of its 2 games to 2. Pre-season pickers generally named Portland for last place.

San Francisco meets its crosstown rival, Oakland, this week. San Francisco looked like class in an opening day 10 to 6 win from Los Angeles, but the Seals made Hollywood Stars playing experience in a four-game series, which it split with Hollywood.

Portland, encouraged by its opening series win, was expected to show well against Los Angeles.

Sacramento, which lost its opening game against Seattle, meets Hollywood.

Cubs Reach Bottom of Ladder-- But Have No New Improvements

By RONALD WAGONER

LOS ANGELES, April 7 (UP)—The Chicago Cubs have been going in the wrong direction for the past four years, dropping from first place to sixth. Unless they encounter some bad breaks this season, however, they should not drop any lower.

To all appearances the Cubs haven't strengthened their club since last season. The thing they needed most was hitting power and they haven't done a thing to improve it. The only .300 hitter on the Cubs last season was third baseman Stanley Hack, who finished fifth with .317 and from the looks of things he's likely to be the only player in that class again.

The Cubs had a flock of rookies but none of them caused much excitement. Probably the best of the lot was Johnny Schmitz, lefthander from Milwaukee who won only seven games while losing 14 last season but who shows promise. Lou Novikoff, the mad Russian who dotes on minor league pitching, is back for another trial in the outfield after hitting .370 at Milwaukee and leading the American association in batting. But Novikoff, lacking much in the way of defensive ability, still is quite a problem. On some days he looks like a murderous hitter, but most of the time he finds major league pitching too much for him. Recently against the Pirates Novikoff hit a homer with the bases loaded and drove in six runs.

Novikoff is competing with Don Dallesandro, regular center fielder last year, Phil Cavarretta, another veteran, and rookie Harry (Peanuts) Lowrenbrau, speedster from Los Angeles, for the left field job. Charley Gilbert, who was handicapped by a variety of ailments last season, is back to play second. Bill Nicholson, who batted only .254 but hit 26 homers, is set in right. Coach Kiki Cuyler has been experimenting with Nicholson's batting stance to improve it.

The Cubs' infield remains the same with Babe Dahlgren at first, Lou Stringer at second, Bob Sturgeon at short and Stanley Hack at third. Rip Russell, up again from Tulsa, Len Merullo and Seymour Block are battling for the utility jobs.

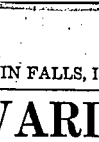

Manager Jimmy Wilson has hopes of getting better pitching and the Cub pitchers are in much better shape at this period than they were a year ago. Bill Lee, Claude Passeau and Dake Moore all are in good shape. Vern Olsen, who has been threatening to become one of the league's top lefthanders, looked like he was headed for a big year until he broke two small bones in his pitching hand. He'll probably be able to pitch again shortly after the season opens but the layoff will set him back.

Of the other pitchers Paul Erickson, the big fast-baller, Vallie Eaves, Bob Bowman from the Giants, Ted Presnell, and Schmitz look the best. Erickson, who won five and lost seven last year with the Cubs and at times showed blinding speed, may blossom into a star.

Clyde McCullough will again be the first-string catcher backed up by Bob Scheffing, who hit the homer that broke the Cards' heart in late September last year.

COWBOYS HAVE GLARING WEAKNESSES

I'm anxious to see how Manager Tony Robello comes out on his announced intention of keeping the Twin Falls Cowboy training expenses down to not more than $1,500—or just about half what the costs were last year.

Tony writes me that he's taking 22 boys to camp under Cowboy contract—these boys being the ones which will get the benefit of Twin Falls expense money. The other 11 in the camp will be just boys there with a love of baseball—but no reputation to get them in. If they can cut the mustard, then they may crowd out one of the boys under contract.

I would guess that when Robello & Co. arrive in Twin Falls about April 27 the total entourage will number probably not more than 18 or 19 men—compared with the 25 with the squad last season when it landed here.

It is interesting to note some of the batting averages compiled by outfielders signed by Oscar Lane Stanley from Brigham in the Michigan State loop last season, had a .295 mark—just about 30 points better than anything the Cowboys had. In fact, in looking over the bat averages for last season, a .290 hitter would have been a sensation.

In left field we had a very fine fielder—Vic Oehler, who clouted a lusty .234. In center was the speedy Bill Randall, who hit exactly .207.

Right field was held down by a wide variety of assorted and so-called ball players: Ted Kerr, .239; Earl Hamel, .209; Al Lightner, .218; Eddie Hefferman, .222 and Eddie Joseph, .215.

This year, besides Shanks, Robello has signed another proven outer-gardener in Jack Billings, who performed in the Kitty league last season and slugged a neat .300.

Tony is still negotiating for a veteran Class B performer for that right field post who would hit well over the .300 mark in this league. If he lands that boy, then the Wranglers will be set with a good, fast outfield—a trio that could alone the ball out of the park when the necessary occasion arose.

And don't forget a big difference may be had at the first base post. Last year the Cowboys tried everything under the sun at the first sack with no success. They finally wound up the last 40 games with Freddie Hultz holding forth. Now, Fred was a nice enough fellow—and he tried hard. But he couldn't hit his way out of a paper bag and ended the season with a .187 batting mark.

Mr. Robello, if his under-pinning holds up, is just about double that average any year in the Pioneer league.

There are still some very wide-open holes in the Cowboy line-up however. Most glaring of these as the catching berth—especially if Bob Peck, playing experience in a four-game series, which it split with Hollywood.

Portland, encouraged by its opening series win, was expected to show well against Los Angeles.

Sacramento, which lost its opening game against Seattle, meets Hollywood.

50,000 Hunting, Fishing Licenses Are Distributed

BOISE, April 7 (AP)—Fifty thousand Idaho hunting and fishing licenses will go on sale in almost every community of the state this week.

Fish and Game Director J. O. Beck said today 42,000 were resident permits, 4,000 non-resident, 2,000 10-day non-resident and 2,000 permits for fishing only. Additional permits will be mailed out later.

Booklets outlining fish and game seasons, bag limits and closed areas over the state are to be given free with each license purchased.

Last year's permits expired March 31. The general fishing season opens May 24.

"In the event it is necessary to close additional waters in the interest of conservation before the season, ing orders will be published in newspapers near the area to be closed," Beck said.

"Go Ahead" Is Signal From FDR on Golf

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 7 (AP)—Golf's greats got together today for the Masters' golf tournament—and got a double helping of cheerful news to start them off.

First was an announcement by Ed Dudley, head of the Professional Golfers association, that President Roosevelt had given golf a wartime go-ahead, along with baseball and other recreational pursuits.

Second was an announcement by Dudley that the PGA's 2,300 members have pledged to raise $250,000 for wartime benefits and relief.

Dudley made public a letter from Stephen T. Early, secretary to President Roosevelt, transmitting to him the President's opinion that within reasonable limits he believed the war effort would not be hampered but actually aided by sensible participation in healthful pursuits. The President said his comment applied to general recreation and amusement during the war period.

Fred Corcoran, PGA tournament manager, said the association's golf stars would engage in as many benefit matches as possible for Red Cross and other war activities.

Meanwhile, some 50 veteran golf campaigners set their sights for the Masters' 72 hole national open course in practice rounds prior to the Masters' tourney April 9-12.

Kimberly Selects Rex Engleking As Athletic Coach

KIMBERLY, April 7—Rex Engleking, former star athlete at Albion Normal and University of Idaho, was elected last night as athletic coach for Kimberly high school.

Engleking will succeed Cle Prince, who has been elected superintendent at Hazelton.

The new coach, who has been athletic mentor this year at Albion high school, will handle football, basketball and track. He played football under Bill Spear at Albion and performed with the Vandal football team at Moscow.

Selection of the coach was made at a special meeting of the Kimberly board of trustees last night.

ABC Tournament At Half Way Mark

COLUMBUS, O., April 7 (AP)—The American Bowling Congress reached the half-way mark today—54 days of Maple mauling—after the nation's keglers wound up 109,216 games.

The highest game count was a 289 by Walter Selle of Rock Island, Ill., scored in the doubles.

The tournament still has to see its first perfect 300 game. In the 41 previous ABC tourneys, nine have been recorded out of 2,293,454 games bowled.

Bill Faust, jr., and Gene Swiesler of Indianapolis collected the high game in doubles to date—820. The top team game so far is a 1,094 tallied by Milwaukee's Schlitz quintet, presently in second place with a 3,105 total.

HOT

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., April 7 (AP)—Hank Soltters and Hanes Hosiery, rival semi-pro baseball teams, got together in a red-hot game yesterday. In fact, it was so hot the game was called in the fourth because of fire.

Flames under the grandstand sent 500 fans scurrying from their seats. The fire destroyed the grandstand, left field bleachers, a bus and three automobiles.

Warmerdam Voted Ace Track, Field Performer of 1942

NEW YORK, April 7 (UP)—Cornelius Warmerdam, the Piedmont, Calif., high school teacher who is the 15-foot pole vaulter of the track history, was chosen the outstanding performer of the 1942 indoor track and field season in the annual poll of the Metropolitan track writers association.

Greg Rice, Notre Dame alumnus, was runner-up to Warmerdam's 44 points with a total of 40. Leslie Mitchell of NYU finished third with 31 points while John Borican of Elberon, N. J., gathered two points.

Chances Good For Early Golfing Start

No-date has been set yet for the official opening of the Twin Falls Municipal golf course, according to Carl Ritchey, city parks commissioner, but if the weather stays as it has and conditions on the lay-out keep improving, chances are good for an early start.

Fred Stone, club manager and starter, reported today that the recent rains have turned the fairways green and the general condition of the course is "excellent."

"The fairways are just like your lawn," Stone reports, "and the greens are coming along fine."

Temporary Holes

However, temporary holes are still being used, for play and will be continued until the greens harden. The new grass greens, incidentally, weathered the severe winter in good shape. Several showed some evidence of snow burns, but are coming along fine now and should be in tip-top condition in another week or so.

Any additional work on the course will be held at a minimum for the duration of the war, according to those in charge. However, there will be less roughage this season than in past years.

The reason for this is to help golfers conserve balls—and avoid the rubber shortage. Ditches and "roughs" alongside the fairways will be mowed clean all year to make it easier to find poorly-hit balls.

To Return Balls

Stone reports that caddies have been given strict orders to turn in all balls—on threat of being fired.

Regarding the golf-ball supply, Stone reports that he will probably have enough on hand to take care of his regular customers this season. However, he won't be selling them up any large amounts.

Sale of repaints and recovered balls that have been knocked about a bit has taken an upward trend and it is expected that one golf ball may go many rounds before being discarded this season.

Charles Elected Cassia Rod, Gun Club President

BURLEY, April 7—Dave Charles was elected president of the Cassia Rod and Gun club last week at their annual meeting and buffet supper in the hall above the Haight Motor Sales.

Other officers are: Curtis Price, vice-president; Dale Hurley, secretary; Garnet Kidd, C. W. Rees, J. L. Salmon, R. L. Averill, Charles I. Barr, W. L. Belfield, Arland Tolman, Russell Bradley, Glen Inman, Charles Elliott and C. E. Jensen, board of directors.

W. R. Priebe, president of the fourth district sportsmen's association, gave the main address, and other entertainment included several wrestling bouts by boys of the Burley high school, under direction of Ronald Wilson. Two films were also presented.

Collegian Hurls No-Hitter—Loses

VILLANOVA, Penn., April 7 (UP)—Hank Donohue hurled a no-hit game but lost it anyway.

Donohue, Villanova college pitcher, held the Vermont university team hitless and retired the first man up in the ninth inning. He injured his arm and Major McDonnell, former Brown Prep hurler, struck out the last two Vermonters.

Vermont's 2-1 victory was gained on wild throws and fielding errors. Villanova collected six hits.

In the Matter of Vacation of Milner Townsite
The Board having under consideration the matter of vacating the Milner Townsite, and it appearing to the Board that the County of Twin Falls has acquired and now hold by tax deed all of the lots within the said Townsite, except Lots 9 and 10 of Block 8; Lots 7, 8, 9 and 10 of Block 9; all of Block 14; Lots 4 and 5 of Block 15; Lot 7 of Block 16; Lots 10 of Block 19; the South Half of Block 34; Lot 4 of Block 61, and all of Block 67 except the east forty-five feet thereof; and
It further appearing to the Board that the work of keeping the necessary records for tax purposes in the event of sale, if the individual lots be retained, would be very great; that no good reason is found why the lot and block separation of the property belonging to the County should not be vacated, and the lands occupied by such lots and blocks be made available for sale in large parcels;
The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Lindsey, who moved its adoption:
WHEREAS, It is deemed to the best interests of the County that the Townsite of Milner, as heretofore platted, should be vacated, insofar as the lots and blocks therein owned by Twin Falls County are concerned;
BE IT RESOLVED: That the Chairman of this Board and its clerk be, and they are authorized to execute and file an instrument of vacation of Milner Townsite, insofar as the lots and blocks therein are owned by Twin Falls County, to-wit: Blocks A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O and Blocks 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7; Lots 1 to 8 inclusive, of Block 8; Lots 1 to 8 inclusive, of Block 9; Block 10; Blocks 11, 12, 13; Lots 1 to 6 inclusive, of Block 16; Blocks 17 and 18; Lots 1 to 9 inclusive of Block 19; Blocks 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33 and Block R; Blocks 34½, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60; Lots 1, 2, 3, 5, Block 61; Blocks 62, 63, 64, 65, 66; the east forty-five feet of Block 67; and Blocks 68, 69 and 70.

War Ban Ousts Tin Covers for Home Preserves

Housewives of Magic Valley were advised today by the war production board that cover caps made of tinplate and terneplate—designed as closures for tomato catsup, chili sauce, and for home-use jars of jelly, jam, marmalade or preserves—no longer may be produced.

By the end of April manufacture of crown caps for bottled beer and soft drinks also will cease, the WPB notified the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

New closures will be made of blackplate, an untinned sheet iron.

TWO-BUS SERVICE FOR 'RUSH HOURS'

Two buses will be in service during three rush hours daily except Sunday, it was announced today by J. Ted Davis, owner of Twin Falls Motor Transit.

"Practical effect is to give 30-minute service in place of one-hour service during the hours of 7 a. m. to 9 a. m., 11 a. m. to 1 p. m., and 5 to 7 p. m.," said Davis.

One hour-service will be given during the remainder of the day and on Sundays.

Changes are (1) that the 7:30 a. m. and 5:30 p. m. "special" also runs to the farm labor camp in addition to South Park, and (2) that the "special" to the Twin Falls county general hospital travels over Filer avenue rather than Heyburn avenue.

For example, between the hours of 7 and 8 a. m., the following buses will be dispatched from the Main-Shoshone intersection:

7 a. m., South Park bus and hospital bus; 7:10 a. m., eastbound bus; 7:15 a. m., northbound bus; 7:30 a. m., hospital bus, and South Park-labor camp bus; 7:40 a. m., eastbound bus, and 7:45 a. m., northbound bus.

The "rush hour" schedule will be maintained for the remaining five hours of the period during which two buses are in service.

Marines' Recruit Officer Arrives

Staff Sgt. Russell Lippert has arrived in Twin Falls to assume his duties as non-commissioned officer in charge of the local U. S. marine recruiting sub-station.

He succeeds Staff Sgt. Stanley J. Jazdzyk who has returned to line duty. Lippert will work here with Sgt. Lawrence N. Laughridge.

Lippert, a North Dakotan, enlisted in the marines in November, 1937. He formerly was stationed with a marine brigade in the Hawaiian islands and aboard a heavy cruiser of the U. S. navy.

For the past two years he has been on recruiting duty, serving at Salt Lake City and Ogden, Utah; Great Falls, Mont., and Pocatello.

He announced the enlistment in Salt Lake City of Willis Floyd Anderson, route three, Twin Falls.

USO COOPERATION EXCELLENT HERE

Twin Falls residents have enlisted their cooperation behind the USO to a "heart-warming" extent, the executive committee of the contact department announced today.

Members of the committee, Mrs. Robert Haller, chairman; Mrs. R. P. Parry, Mrs. T. C. Bacon, Mrs. E. W. McRoberts and Mrs. R. G. Not to be outdone by the adults, the junior unit of the Girls' league, Twin Falls high school, with Miss Marion Griggs, president, and Mrs. Rose M. North, dean of girls, cooperating, presented 44 complete packets and donated dozens of other items to go toward completion of other packets.

Miss Agnes Schubert's high school art class made six outstanding posters, which have been placed in various recruiting offices.

The work of the courtesy committee, doing the difficult work of contacting bereaved families and writing letters to Twin Falls county men in the armed forces who are either ill or wounded, has been well taken care of by Mrs. H. C. Schade and Mrs. A. E. Sillor, according to the executive committee.

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP)—

Cotton—mixed; New Orleans selling; mills buying.
CHICAGO:

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP)—An assortment of specialties managed to keep Monday's stock market rally going today but many leaders showed a notable lack of follow-through stamina.

Pivotal issues displayed rising difficulties at the start and, while favorites moved up fractions to a point or so, losers of as much were plentiful at the close.

Transfers were around 300,000 shares.

Renewal of speculative and investment hesitancy was attributed partly to fears of bad news from the battle of Bataan and apprehension over the British-India stalemate.

Bonds and commodities never established a definite direction although hog quotations jumped to new highs since 1926.

Stocks of several air transport companies were propped by revived hopes mail rate increases might be granted in the near future. Among these were American Airlines and Eastern Air lines.

Resistant performers were Kennecott, Phelps Dodge, Southern Pacific, N. Y. Central, Chesapeake & Ohio, Allied Chemical, U. S. Gypsum, Goodrich and Woolworth.

In arrears most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, American Telephone, Standard Oil (NJ), Union Carbide, Western Union and duPont.

SLIGHT DECLINE MADE IN WHEAT

CHICAGO, April 7 (AP)—An attempt to extend the grain market's recovery failed today although cereal prices were fractionally higher at times, led by corn and oats, feeding grains which responded to another advance in hog values.

Feeding and industrial demand for corn and reports of delayed seeding of oats in some localities were bullish factors. A Dallas report that drouth and the most severe attack of greenbugs since 1907 had destroyed fall and spring oats in much of north Texas and southern Oklahoma and had damaged some winter wheat also attracted attention. However, wheat continued to be depressed by the favorable crop outlook elsewhere, scarcity of storage space and lagging flour demand.

Wheat closed ⅛-½ lower than yesterday, May $1.23⅛-⅛, July $1.25½-⅝; corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, May 88⅛, July 90⅝; oats ⅛-⅜ higher; rye ⅛-⅜ lower; soybeans ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher.

Stock Sale Case Goes to Jurymen

After final arguments by attorneys and delivery of instructions by Judge J. W. Porter, a district court jury this afternoon began consideration of a civil suit asking $520.50 plus interest.

Henry J. Radermacher, Gooding, asks the judgment on claim that W. W. Daniels and F. C. Erwin, proprietors of the Twin Falls Commission company, sold livestock belonging to him. The defense claims Radermacher gave his permission and did not protest the sales.

Judge Porter this morning twice denied motions by the plaintiff for an instructed verdict in his behalf. The jurist also denied a non-suit motion by the defense.

W. G. Bissell, Gooding attorney, presented the closing arguments for Radermacher and E. L. Rayborn offered the final arguments for the defendants.

● SERIAL STORY

MEXICAN MASQUERADE

BY CECIL CARNES

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THIS STORY: Allan Steele posing as magazine photographer, ends Dr. Largest and Cannery; on U. S. mission in Mexico's Pompignia, who have disappeared; also news of Harry Bishop, murdered by mysterious injection while on same mission. Bishop, found, reported only "The yellow devils!" Allan gets leads from Sun Su, Chinese proprietor of isolated inn, who is working with U. S. He learns there is Jap cannery on nearby island that might be front for plane and bomber supply base; that "beautiful and evil" Asia Minor, Eurasian girl who hates the English, is connected with it. He makes play for Asia, is suspicious of her friendliness with Col. Escobar, enigmatic officer of Rural Guards.

CHEESE CATCHES MOUSE

CHAPTER VIII

THE lobby was still empty; Asia and Escobar were still chatting in the patio; the rest of the hotel was silent as the night itself. Allan went to bed, reflecting as he undressed that he had not done so badly for the first afternoon. Tomorrow he would have a look at those islands, he promised himself, and if those yellow devils—

Then his head hit the soft cool pillow and he proceeded to sleep like the seven Ephesians. It was broad daylight when the Indian boy, sweeping the central court, awakened him.

He bathed, breakfasted in his room, got into the riding kit he had brought, guessing he would need it, and was waiting for Asia at 9 sharp in the lobby. She appeared promptly with the news that she had ordered a horse for him as well as for herself from a rancher down the road.

She rode well. So did Allan Steele, winning her praise when he subdued a lively rebellion staged by his mount. They settled to an easy single-step, keeping side by side and talking.

In response to her fairly direct questions, he obligingly invented a mythical family which had suffered mythical outrages at the hands of the hated English. She expressed womanly sympathy, and frankly aired some of the grievances she had brought from India. They cursed the British Empire in language hotter than the July heat. Allan also gave birth to an older brother who, he said, was an army officer running an important bureau in the War Department at Washington—a brother who kept him informed of much that went on behind the scenes. Allan was quick enough to note the glance she darted at him when he brought out that item of family history. He had her interested, he decided.

She accounted for herself quite readily. She owned a big share in a Japanese fish cannery operating in the gulf, and was here to keep an eye on her investment.

• • •

THEY got back to the hotel at noon. Allan saw a saddle horse tethered in the shade by the front door and Escobar standing by and watching them keenly as they rode up. He saw something else, too, and checked an exclamation; chancing to look up [illegible] heard a rustle in the [illegible], he spied his elusive friend of overnight just disappearing behind some bushes. Allan whistled softly at a sudden notion; he beckoned to the officer as Asia dismounted and went into the lobby.

"Senor Colonel, I observed a man last night watching this inn while you were inside. I have just seen the same fellow lurking up the road. Thought I'd tell you. It occurs to me that possibly you are being followed—perhaps by one of those 'friends' you met yesterday!"

"Ah!" Colonel Escobar reached up to touch his mustache, staring thoughtfully at the American. "Yes," he admitted slowly, "it is quite possible I am being watched. Could you see if the fellow had on dark blue clothes? And a quite large sombrero?"

"That describes him perfectly." Allan could not condone assassination even for traitors, so he added: "Better keep your eyes open for trouble, eh?"

"Indeed, I will be most careful," promised the colonel of rurales. "And meanwhile, senor, permit me to thank you once again for a kindness. I shant forget it."

They went into the hotel together, chatting casually. Escobar continued on his way to the patio, and Allan halted at a gesture from Sun Su behind the desk. The Chinese was holding out a telegram, which Allan took and ripped open in utter mystification. He wasn't expecting a wire from anybody.

The message was signed with the name of the magazine editor in San Francisco, and the text was brief. It said: "When are you going to send us some pictures?"

Allan grinned to himself. He recognized the fine Italian hand of his chief in this. He knew who had sent it, not the editor, and it was merely designed to bear out his avowed reason for being in Lower California. He stuck the envelope in his pocket, then spoke quickly to Sun Su.

• • •

"I'M going for a spin in the car directly after lunch—looking for photographs, you know. Thought I'd drive about ten miles south along the shore road and see what I find."

"Be careful, senor," murmured the fat man, fanning himself. "If I might suggest something—?"

"Please do. I'll welcome any tip you give me."

"Inland about half a mile there is a second road, not too rough, which takes the same direction as the first. It is much more private. When you are abreast of the islands I mentioned, you'll find a steep little hill with a clump of pines at the top. Lying in them with that excellent pair of glasses I noticed you carrying, you can see much without being seen yourself."

"Right! Thanks a lot, Sun Su." Allan held the other's eye a moment. "If I don't come back, you'll know where I went last!"

"I understand, senor. I quite understand."

Allan went into the corridor leading to his room. Some yards beyond it the door of another room was slightly ajar; a shadow passing to and fro across it told of movement within. That would be Asia, he surmised.

A moment later he smiled at himself in the glass above his washstand. A light footstep had come along the hall, paused just an instant, then went along toward the lobby. The cheese had caught the mouse, Asia had picked up the envelope, but she was going to have a look at its contents before returning it to its owner.

Half an hour later, coolly clothed in a fresh linen suit and feeling pleased with himself, he selected a table in the patio and ordered lunch. The boy had no sooner gone than Colonel Escobar came sauntering across the court and laid a familiar missive on the table.

"Senorita Minor asked me to hand you this; she picked it up in the corridor, where she thinks you must have dropped it."

"A thousand thanks. Just a word from my editor asking why I haven't been sending him pictures."

"Yes. And apparently the impatient gentleman has been trifling a bit himself." Escobar's hand was at his mouth, either to shape his small mustache or to hide a twitch of his lips. "You said his office was in San Francisco, did you not? Yet I observed the wire is dated from San Diego."

"The devil!" said Steele sorely. It was disconcerting to have the chief's full-mgent gesture turn into a boomerang, but Allan forgot that in a temporary irritation. "Do you always read lost correspondence before returning it to its owner, Colonel?"

1,000 STUDENTS IN BUHL PARADE

BUHL, April 7—About 1,000 school students from the high school, junior high and grade schools marched in the Army day parade which began at 1:30 p. m. Monday. The parade was headed by Jay J. Rugg, riding a spirited horse, followed by the high school band in uniform. Starting at the Lincoln intermediate school, the line of march extended through Main street and down Ninth avenue to the F. H. Buhl school, down to Broadway avenue, and east on Broadway to Walnut, then to Ninth avenue and back to the F. H. Buhl, where the parade disbanded and the school students went back to school.

In the fore part of the parade, the band stopped at the intersection of Main and Broadway and played "The Fanfare," "El Capitan," "King Cotton" and "The Drum Major," for the entertainment of the large crowd which had gathered to witness the parade. School children carried many flags and banners, a great number of them representing calls for the purchase of defense bonds and stamps. A large group of Camp Fire girls represented American Red Cross work, and a number of first aid classes marched in groups. Boy Scout troops were also in the line of march.

Prominent in the parade was a group of 25 first World war veterans, some in uniform. Two large American Legion flags, one a flag of the United States and the other of the American Legion, were prominently featured.

One section of the parade was devoted to horses and riders. Mr. and Mrs. George Lillibridge heading the section on their noted trained horses.

A humorous feature was a bicyclist who signified by placard that she was a "Alfred Hunter looking for Japs." Placards on a number of cars were on the same line of thought.

Various business houses had entered cars and trucks in the parade.

All stores were closed for two hours during the afternoon in commemoration of the entrance of the United States in the first World war.

PENSION FOR CONGRESSMEN HAS ITS POINTS

Editor, Times-News:

We still hear echoes of derision and criticism, concerning a law which would provide pensions for our ex-congressmen. While the motion seems to be pension minded, this particular act was at once offensive to the people, and quickly repealed. It should therefore be closed incident. And now, who will say that it might not bob up again in the coming campaign?

Without defending the attitude of those who voted for the act, and without an ax to grind, let us see if we can find any merit in this defunct law. When we consider the human element with the practical, we may first ask: What are the prime requisites of a successful lawmaker in the congress of the United States? We do the word successful, rather than good or great; it has more implications, we think. First he must have ability, and a big word, must be dignified and unhurried, should have a large private income besides his salary. Handsome? Yes. These are among the values as we see them.

Now if we look into the personnel of our congressmen and senators, too, we shall find a group of men, some millionaires or near millionaires, men of wealth whose private income is prodigious, who can well afford to spend every dollar of their salary in high living who do not know the value of a dollar as the man who is trying to pay off a mortgage on 40 cent wheat. These gentlemen live in the upper strata of high society, they spend without thought or restraint. This group may well comprise the half of the membership, while the rest are men of moderate means. To send these relatively poor men to our congress, can mean only one of two things, either they must move with their rich colleagues in the upper strata and spend all their salary, or be classed as hay-seeds, without influence and prestige, which is a prime necessity to a congressman, thus they are put on the spot.

Oratory, yes, but, that is not enough. There are a very few like our Senator Borah was, that can talk without putting a third to sleep and sending another third into the cloak-rooms. Why a relatively poor man wants a second or a third term or why a millionaire wants to get in at all, is beside the point. The fact is they are both there to function as the lawmaking body for 132 million people, and we expect them to do more than work for a salary.

Moreover, when his career in Washington comes to an end, when he becomes an ex-congressman he is still not yet through with spending money and time. We can think of many public projects in his home district in which he is asked to head the list for contributions. He is still our distinguished citizen. If he gives the amount he can afford, it is too little. If he gives what we think he should, we overtax his ability, again we put him on the spot. It is the American way that we all wish to do something worthy for our home and our country, but many times this takes dollars and cents. The more prominent and distinguished a man is the more we ask of him. Yes, we vemit "chiseling" man's generosity without thinking.

But why castigate the members of congress? Didn't President Roosevelt sign this pension bill? So we feel that this question of pensions for our congressmen has plenty of merit and is at least debatable. And because there was no debate on this, as it is said, seems to indicate that there was no division on the issue involved. But how much pension, that is something else.

Air Squadron On Alert for Iron Salvage

The local squadron of the civil air patrol, based at the municipal airport, has gone "all-out" for defense.

Maynard Craig, commander, announced today that squadron pilots on practice observation flights would note location of abandoned scrap iron from the air and would make a note of such location, informing the local post of the American Legion where it is.

"Last Sunday five ships, in formation, made a criss-cross observation flight over the Salmon tract country and observers kept an eye open for old abandoned cars, machinery or other such items.

"When such was located a note was made as to where it was located, where the nearest road was and how far it was from a main highway. This data will be turned over to officials of the Legion post in Twin Falls to aid them in present scrap iron drive.

"Next Sunday the squadron pilots and observers will scan another area in search of the scrap metal," Commander Craig said.

Pilots for last Sunday's flight were Harry Harris, Lionel A. Dean, John Snow, Dick Love and Craig. Observers were Dekie Roberts, Howard Wells, Mrs. Maynard Craig, Fred Britt, Mrs. Dorothy Hutchins and Victor Kelly.

LDS WARNED ON REVOLUTIONISTS

SALT LAKE CITY, April 7 (AP)—The 112th annual general conference of the Latter-Day Saints church was concluded yesterday with a warning against "revolutionists."

At the final session the 500 leaders heard a statement of the church position on numerous current matters read by J. Reuben Clark, Jr., first counselor in the first presidency.

The 38-page message included the warning statement, which called attention to "revolutionists both in this country and abroad who are seeking to undermine the American form of government and establish some form of dictatorship."

It also urged church members to meet in full their obligations to defend America through force of arms, urged householders to provide a year's supply of essential foodstuffs ahead, and set forth that the church would continue to send forth missionaries without hampering the nation's need for manpower insofar as possible.

Combat Evil Forces

"Today, more than ever before," said the statement, "we must bring the full force of the righteousness of our people and the full influence of the spiritual power and the responsibility of the holy priesthood to combat the evil forces which satan has let loose among the peoples of the earth. . . .

"The members of the church have always felt under obligation to come to the defense of their country when a call to arms was made. . . .

"In the present war righteous men of the church . . . have died, some with great heroism, for their own country's sake. . . . We have felt honored that our brethren have died nobly for their country; the church has been benefited by their service and sacrifice."

Haven't Forgotten

"Nevertheless," Elder Clark said, "we have not forgotten that on Sinai God commanded 'Thou shalt not kill'; nor that in this dispensation the Lord has repeatedly reiterated that command.

"But all these commands, from Sinai down, run in very terms against individuals as members of society, as well as members of the church, for one man must not kill another as Cain killed Abel. . . .

"Thus the church is and must be against war. . . . It cannot regard war as a righteous means of settling international disputes. . . .

"If when beginning a war that call (of the nation for armed service) and obeying those in command over them, they (members of the church) shall take the lives of those who fight against them, that will not make them murderers nor subject them to the penalty that God has prescribed for 'he who kills.'"

Won't Evade Duty

Dealing with missionary activities, Elder Clark's statement asserted "We shall not lightly call anyone for the purpose of having him evade military service nor for the purpose of interfering with or hampering that service in any way, or of putting and impediment in the way of government. These would be unworthy motives for a missionary life. . . .

Regarding food storage the statement said ". . . Now we urge every church member to have a year's supply of essential foodstuffs ahead. This should, as far as possible, be produced by such householder and preserved by him. This course will not only relieve from any impending distress those households who so provide themselves, but will release just that much food to the general national stores of foodstuffs from which the public at large must be fed."

Japan Threats on India May Speed Negotiation Programs

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

The Japanese bombing of Ceylon and cities on the Madras coast of India may or may not be preliminary to an attempt to invasion, but it patently does represent (1) an effort to disrupt strategic British supply stations, and (2) terrorism which is calculated to drive the Indians into rejecting Britain's offer of dominion status and refusing to support the war effort.

Coincident with the rain of bombs, Japanese Premier Tojo has announced his country's intention to invade. He has in effect warned the people of Hindustan to desert the British and join the Nipponese, lest "India suffer great calamities." Perhaps he spoke the truth, since invasion certainly is possible, but the fact that he is advertising his plans in advance is no recommendation for confidence.

You have seen the Japs at circuses spin barrels on their feet. Well, it strikes me that Tojo at the moment is lying on his back and doing some psychological barrel-spinning for its effect on the Anglo-Indian dispute.

Whether India is susceptible to this juggling remains to be seen. As might be expected, the immediate reaction of the Indian press was the reverse of what Tojo wanted, the newspapers urging that the two parties settle their differences and get together for defense.

That would seem to be sound advice since an India divided against itself is an invitation for invasion. In addition, there is small doubt that Herr Hitler is urging the Japs to take the offensive either against India or Russia as a support to the German spring drive against the Bolshevists.

An attack on Siberia would compel the Russians to fight on two fronts at once—a terrific strain. An invasion of India would force the British to withdraw troops and equipment from Irak and Iran for use in Hindustan, thereby unguarding the gateway into the middle east for the Nazis.

Probably Hitler would prefer the attack on Siberia. His immediate problem is to bring the Russian offensive to a standstill and then hold the Reds from the Baltic clear down to the Ukraine, while he tries to blast his way into the Caucasus and on into the middle east. Therefore a Japanese assault on Siberia would be a Godsend to him.

In many ways the Russian show would be attractive to the Japs. They know they must fight the Soviet sooner or later anyway. They long have coveted the rich Amur basin. And the Russian forces in the Vladivostok area have been Japan's greatest worry.

However, much as the Japs would like to drive the Russians out of that area, the job presents difficulties which call for consideration. The Nipponese are said to have a million troops ready at the Siberian frontier, but the Bolsheviks also reportedly have a large force of unknown numbers.

Quite likely the trend of the British-Indian crisis will have much influence on the Japanese plans.

FIVE KILLED IN BOMBER'S CRASH

TUSCON, Ariz., April 7 —(AP)— Army authorities said today that flames spurted from one engine of a four-motored bomber shortly before it crashed and burned on the desert 20 miles southwest of here, killing five crew members.

Two of their crewmates parachuted to safety just before the big plane crashed 11 miles east of the Davis-Monthan army air base while on a routine flight late yesterday.

While an army board of inquiry began an investigation, officers said unofficially that motor trouble was believed responsible. Flames were spurting from one of the motors apparently were extinguished before the crash, officers said, but the plane burned after it struck the desert.

The bodies of four of the five victims were recovered from the charred wreckage. They apparently had been trapped inside the cabin, officers said. The body of the pilot was thrown clear of the plane, but his arms and legs were badly burned.

The co-pilot, 2nd Lieut. S. L. Fouts, Tucson, and the crew chief, Sergeant W. F. Regan, parachuted from the plane. Fouts suffered injuries, the extent of which were not disclosed. Regan was suffering from shock, authorities said.

The victims were identified as:

1st Lieut. D. W. Johnson, Tuscon, Ariz., pilot.

Sgt. L. D. Larsen, Min Creek, Ida.

Pvt. L. W. Thomas, Lemoore, Calif.

Pvt. H. W. Dunn, Mifflingston, Pa.

Pvt. E. L. Wallace, Phillipsburg, Pa.
